

Faith: Journey or Destination?

From Pastor Len...

I am writing this in Paris, where Liz and I have been spending February. Traveling has always held a spiritual dimension for me; the discovery that life is lived in so many different ways and places is invariably deepening and broadening. No matter how many times we return to Paris, there is always a new dimension to be savored.

In our younger years, traveling was a destination event: We wanted to get to, tour, and photograph places and monuments. When folks come to Paris for the first time, of course they want to see the Eiffel Tower, Notre Dame, the Louvre etc. – and quickly if they are here for only a few days. On our first, short trip here in 1993, we barely slept. Commercial tours are packaged this way: See it all in 5 days and 4 nights. Interaction with locals? No time ... get on the bus.

In our more recent years, we are much more about the journey. In French, to flâner is to stroll (never march) without a specific destination ... taking in the sights, sounds, smells of baking and cooking, faces, architecture—being in the moment and going with its flow. A flâneur might linger over a coffee and pastry for an hour—just taking it all in. To travel this way is to focus on being rather than doing.

As we move more deeply into Lent, I encourage us to consider our approach to faith—individually and as a faith community. For many Christians, faith is a destination tour: It is a tightly programmed agenda toward correct thinking and doing the right things to make ourselves acceptable to God and ensure salvation. There are doctrines to memorize and repeat. It is important to bring others along the same path. Difficult questions and flâneuring are not valued.

But Lent invites us to consider a journeying of faith. We are invited to walk with Jesus toward the inevitable cross, flâneuring over profoundly sacred texts in which we find aspects of ourselves revealed and challenged. Rather than rushing toward the ‘photo-op’ of the Easter boulevard, Lent invites us to experience with Jesus the narrower alleyways of hope, fear, assurance, and confusion. Lent is a true gift in the seasons of the liturgical year!

I look forward to this Lenten time. I am eager to know what you are seeing, perceiving, and learning as we wander with Jesus in this sacred wilderness. ■

Sovereignty

In Presbyterian and Reformed theology, the sovereignty of God is the biblical doctrine that God holds absolute supreme authority, power, and rule over all creation, including nature, history, and human affairs. He is in control of all things, nothing can thwart his purpose, and he is not beholden to any created being.

It is a concept that respects His relation to other beings and to all other being and existence. It is, therefore, a relative concept, or a concept of relation.

PW Brunch & Auction

Mark your calendars for some important events. On March 29th, PW will be hosting the annual Brunch & Auction right after Palm Sunday service. If you have any items you wish to donate to the auction, please speak with Suzanne Niemann.

Protest Signs Available

UPC now has a Protest Sign Library located in the C.E. room. Please feel free to borrow them, carry them, return them, and pray for a day when we will no longer need them. Background: Mission Month dealt with all the, mostly, political turmoil that is disrupting our lives, and ways to deal with it. The main theme was "A way in the Wilderness" a quote from Isaiah. Which I misspelled and they had to cut out of the banner over the choir!

One Sunday dealt with music, especially protest songs. The choir came on a Saturday and made protest signs, not political, mostly song lyrics and bible quotes, and processed into the sanctuary on Sunday morning carrying them. We decorated the worship space with them for the following weeks and hated to dispose of them. If you ever need a sign that says "Jesus was a refugee" or "Feed the hungry". be our guest.

Arizona Qualified Charitable Organizations

Did you know that the ARIS foundation (our Tuesday night ministry partners), United Food Bank, and Paz de Cristo are all Arizona qualified charitable organizations? They are! Speak with your qualified tax advisor to find out how you can receive a dollar for dollar tax credit when donating to one of these, or many other, qualifying charities. You can divide your contribution between all three if you want. For 2025 an individual may donate up to $495.00 and a married couple can donate up to $987.00. And you can still donate to the public school tax credit and other qualifying tax credits. For more information: Tax Credits Arizona Department of Revenue

A Call for Creative Landscaping Ideas

By JUDY EARL

We are all enjoying our completed and maturing xeriscape landscape. For the continuing beautification of our campus, for the glory of God, I am requesting help and design ideas from all of you creative and artistic folks. There are a couple of other small areas that weren't included in our original landscaping vision. These are areas that we are not able to run irrigation lines to, so plants won't work.

Area 1: The area outside the Fellowship Hall looks a little bare and could use some love.

Area 2: The irrigation to the rosemary planters failed more than ten years ago. The only way to repair it would be to dig up the courtyard. A former Trustee has been watering them by hand for the last ten years.

I have a few ideas, but design isn't really my strong suit. I'm sure others are much more creative and artistic, so I'm putting out the call for your ideas in hopes that you can suggest things that I haven't thought of. The Trustees will consider all ideas.

Please send your suggestions to Judy Earl, Landscaping Trustee, at (480) 201-2097 or jgearl@mindspring.com ■

A is for Activist

By SUE SCHNEBEL

CE has once again partnered with MSJP for Mission Month learning about being an activist and how we might be able to change the world. During Sunday School classes, the children have brainstormed what might need to be changed and what we could do as changemakers.

Our younger learners focused on young changemakers to get a better understanding of their causes and efforts. For example, we learned about Abigail Lupi who visited a nursing home and saw how sad the residents were. So, she started a group, CareGirlz, and visited adult homes and hospitals singing and dancing to make everyone smile, and she was just ten years old. For Valentine's Day, the children made cards and treats for some of our homebound parishioners to bring smiles to their faces. Check out the wall in the sanctuary to see pictures and the stories of other young activists.

Our older children worked diligently learning about food insecurity. Did you know that 1 out of 7 people in Arizona are food insecure? The children have started to write letters to our government representatives with their concerns. One student was so motivated that he was going to bring a letter writing campaign to his elementary school!

In March, the classes will be selling Feed the Hungry wrist bands to the congregation, and the proceeds will go to a local food bank. We will also visit the food bank, so they get a better understanding of what it takes to feed those in need. The children have written the announcements themselves and have made posters as well.

Each child will receive a book about young changemakers and a t-shirt in the hope that they will continue to be inspired and know that you are never too young to make a difference. ■

America's American Mathematics Competition

By SADA REED

Winston Reed competed in the Mathematical Association of America's American Mathematics Competition at Altadena Middle School in Phoenix on January 22.

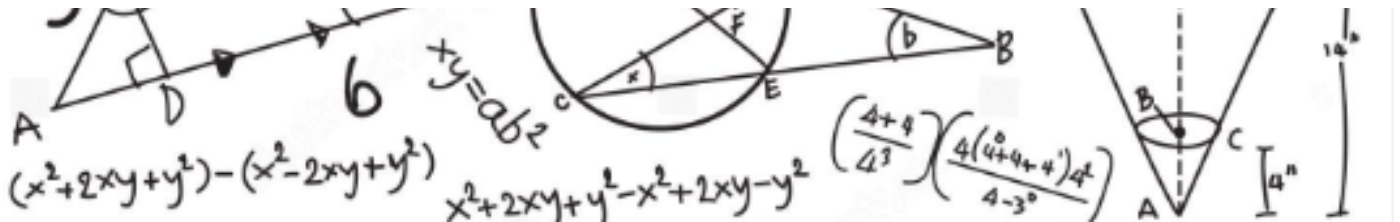

Winston earned the highest score among sixth grader competitors, who come from Altadena Middle School and Kyrene Traditional Academy to take the 25-question, 40-minute exam.

"It was surprising," said Winston, age 11. "I thought I'd score really low. I got pretty lucky."

Sixth, seventh, and eighth graders took the AMC 8 test, which is designed to introduce students to mathematical problem solving beyond standard school curriculum. The competition focused on counting and probability, estimation, proportional reasoning, elementary geometry (including the Pythagorean Theorem), spatial visualization, and interpreting graphs and tables.

Students who go on to compete in the AMC 10, which is for high school students in 10th grade and below, can qualify for Team USA's international mathematics competitions, such as the International Mathematical Olympiad. ■

2026 Easter Lily Dedications

By ANDREA WHITE & JEY YOUNG

UPC Deacons are happy to help you honor people close to your heart this time of the year. You may want to remember a family member or friend whose memory is special to you on Easter. Or you may want to honor someone you know by giving them a lovely plant to show you care. This could be a great opportunity to show your gratitude or recognition to those UPC folks you value for their hard work and/or help when you need it.

Think about someone who puts their heart into preparing for church service every week. Remember "it takes a village." Aren't we thankful for so many people on staff or on the Sanctuary committee as well as various board members. Remember the folks who lead caring missions...and the list goes on. It is an honor to be blessed with beautiful music, a clean campus and weekly bulletins and monthly newsletters keeping all of us aware of important news, isn't it?

Can you believe it? Easter is approaching on April 5, 2026. On March 15th, 22nd and 29th the Deacons will have a table on the patio after worship to accept your donation of $15.00 for an Easter lily or plant in memory of loved ones or to celebrate someone "special" to you. Your plant will be placed in the sanctuary for Easter Sunday service at 9:30 a.m. You may pick up your plant after the service or if you would like to donate yours to a home-bound church member, please indicate that when you sign up.

As an alternative to Sunday morning sign up, you may use the online giving button from upctempe.org, or contact Andrea White at (480) 580-3021 or Jey Young (480) 353-8348. Also, you may leave a check at the church office payable to UPC with "Easter Lily" written in the memo line.

The Deacons are grateful for your support and we pray that you have a Blessed Easter. ■

It was a Cold, Blustery, and Windy Weekend in Southeastern Arizona!

By DAN ABBOTT

It was a cold, blustery, and windy weekend in southeastern Arizona!

Over the weekend of January 24-25, twelve UPC members drove to Douglas to visit First Presbyterian of Douglas (FPD); to meet with them, give them support, have a meal with them, worship with them, and communicate our love for the congregation. UPCers will remember that some 2½ years ago, an arsonist set fire to FPD; he found fault with a church that hired a female pastor. Not only did he torch the Presbyterian church but, with equal venom, he set fire to the Episcopal church next door. The action of the arsonist left the city in shock; tears flowed as a crowd gathered to witness the destruction of decades-old churches in the heart of their beloved Douglas.

Today, First Presbyterian is a very small church, with perhaps 25 members, who have worshipped in a building erected in the early part of the last century by the owners of Phelps-Dodge. It stands on the central square of this small town and, until its destruction, welcomed all in a building known for its stunning stained-glass windows and quarried granite walls. The City of Douglas residents recognized FPD, along with several other churches, as a vital part of the Douglas community.

With the help of many donors, the congregation has been able to re-build its Fellowship Hall into a facility specifically designed to serve their community. The new structure abuts the historic sanctuary that still stands but is a shell of its former self. As the FPD congregation engages in intense planning and preparation for their mission, UPC members have chosen to support them in every way possible. We are seeing ourselves as a “sibling church,” committed to supporting their faith-in-action.

Back to the rainy day!! We drove south under dark cloudy skies and stopped in Tucson for brunch. It began to rain during our trip into Douglas and, by the time we arrived, it was pouring. Feeling chilled to the bone, Jean Tsuya led a quick tour of the new facility, so we could head to our hotel and snug in for the night. UPC crowd found its way to the historic Gadsden Hotel, four blocks from the church. First erected in 1907, the Gadsden retains much of its former architectural glory; it is a favorite spot for the UPC travelers. We ate in the hotel dining room and then tumbled into bed.

Sunday morning, we met for breakfast at Border Taco, a restaurant a few blocks away. After a quick tour of the old town, provided by one of our members who loves old places, we arrived at church by 10:30 where our Douglas sisters and brothers in Christ welcomed us into their worship space. Douglas Presbyterian is a bilingual church with songs, scriptures, and liturgy in both English and Spanish. Pastors Jocabed Gallegos and Peggy Christianson led worship; they are a strong team. Paster Peggy emphasized “hope” and spoke to the needs of both of our congregations. The midday meal was scrumptious—Presbyterians really know how to cook (but, then, you know that)! After a last look at the destroyed sanctuary we piled into cars for the 4+ hour ride home. We came away with a deep sense of respect and amazement at the potential for good that this small group of brothers and sisters are embracing. They are responding to this crisis in the life of their church with an openness to where God would lead them. How we at UPC can assist them is still unknown, but we will be listening to God’s call to share our lives with them. ■

There are some leftover questions from Advent that are already included.

Questions may be submitted by email (pastorlen@upctempe.org), left in the offering plate, or by text. ■

A Look Ahead to ‘Holy Week’

The most sacred week of the liturgical year will offer several high-impact opportunities for all ages

Palm/Passion Sunday, March 29th, 9:30 a.m.: Using a specially-designed, original liturgy, we will all participate in the dramatic re-telling of the events of Sunday through Wednesday in that momentous week. The sermon, in an interview format, will feature members of this year’s confirmation group as they share their faith journey.

Monday through Friday, 7 a.m.: Join us in the Memorial Garden each morning for a short but meaningful prayer service. Friday’s will include an adaptation of the ‘stations of the cross’.

A Holy Week Dinner in Fellowship Hall, Wednesday, 5 p.m.: Our weekly gathering will have a special tone this week as we consider “Yes, We Were There.”

Maundy Thursday, 7 p.m.: The pastor and people of Mission del Sol Presbyterian Church will join us for a service that includes the Office of Tenebrae—the reverse of our Christmas Eve service: With readings, Communion, music and the extinguishing of candles, the sanctuary will move from bright light to the darkness of the tomb of Jesus. Pastor Kelsy of MdS will have offer a meditation.

Good Friday, 7 p.m.: Mission del Sol Presbyterian Church will host a reflective liturgy. The UPC church family is cordially invited.

Easter Sunday, April 5th, 9:30 a.m.: Having moved through a meaningful Lent, we will celebrate the Festival of the Resurrection with stirring music, Communion, a homily by Pastor Len, and the Rite of Confirmation! Greetings church family.

We are starting to narrow the field of candidates. We have reviewed written answers to our questions, and we have spoken over Zoom. We are in the middle of checking references. We continue to discern and look for the person God will reveal to us through contemplation, prayer, and being open to the Spirit.

Keep praying for us.

The Work Goes On for UPC

By LINDA RISSEEUW

Mission Month may be over for now, but the work goes on.

Thank you to everyone who wrote letters during our letter writing event during Mission Month. But as we all know there are still issues out there that we, as Christians, feel deeply about. So, we encourage you to keep contacting your legislators about what concerns you. Is it immigration? The environment? Voting rights? Civil Rights? Democracy? Foreign policy? Education? Vouchers?

Hand-written letters mean a lot to our legislators. Remember also to thank them when you are pleased with their actions.

Below is information about how to find and contact your legislators.

How to contact your Arizona Legislatures                  If you know your legislator, go to member roster for contact information. ## A statement from PC(USA) on Immigration that can be used in a letter

The United States has made binding commitments under international law to protect refugees; this operation contradicts those commitments.

Our denomination's stance is clear and longstanding. Presbyterians have repeatedly affirmed the call to welcome refugees, to support their resettlement, to seek family reunification, and to oppose policies that endanger refugees or return them involuntarily to harm...

The Office of Public Witness calls on the administration to:

- Immediately halt detentions of lawfully resettled refugees connected to Operation PARRIS
- Guarantee due process, including access to legal counsel and clear, timely procedures
- Provide transparency about the legal authority, criteria, and implementation of this operation
- Protect family unity and ensure refugees are not isolated from their communities and sponsors
- Reaffirm the U.S. commitment to refugee protection, rather than weakening it through fear-based enforcement

We urge Congress to conduct immediate oversight, demand public answers, and ensure that refugee policy is carried out humanely and lawfully...

We call on Presbyterians and people of faith to continue to stand with refugees...
